VitalSource

Five Things to Know About the Doer Effect

The Doer Effect is a learning science principle that has proven that doing practice questions while you're reading causes better learning outcomes. Simply put: doing practice causes learning.